

St Andrews, Florida, October 18th, 1924.

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company,
Loan Department, Milwaukee, Wis.

Gentlemen:-

Yours of the 14th is at hand and has received my thoughtful consideration. I have come to the conclusion that I stand a better chance to realize the most on my policy by asking you to make a further loan of $600.

I understand that when the interest becomes due I must pay the company the amount, and if alive then think there may be changes that will enable me to do so, and thus save some $700 which I should lose if I surrendered the policy.

Please arrange for this addition sending me the papers as soon as possible. Your prompt attention to this subject has been most satisfactory to me. I have all my dealings with the company.

Truly yours